Subject: Update - MDD Market Trials

Importance: High

The Meter Data Distribution (MDD) market trials testing period formally ended on May 18, 2015.

The MDD Sandbox will remain available to market trials participants to continue with unstructured testing until June 1, 2015. During this time:

- The Online IESO Sandbox will still be available for market trials participants to create or edit meter data report profiles and submit ad-hoc meter data requests.
- The IESO Reports Site Sandbox will be available for market trials participants to view and download meter data reports using a Person account or a Machine (API) account.
- Meter data reports (i.e., key dates and ad-hoc reports) will be published during this period based on estimated meter data.
- IESO will continue to provide assistance to participants.
