Subject: NERSC Engagement Update

Dear NERSC participant,

As previously communicated, the IESO has been working through a process of resourcing for the next phase of the Non Emitting Resource Subcommittee (NERSC) work-plan, which includes retaining an expert consultant to undertake a modelling exercise that will look at what the future market may look like for NERs across a range of scenarios. The RFP for the consultant closed on May 18 and the IESO is currently in the midst of finalising the onboarding of the successful proponent.

To ensure that the IESO, stakeholders, and consultant are all involved in scoping for the modelling exercise, the next NERSC meeting will take place in mid-July. On the agenda for this meeting will be a Phase 1 summary of the NERSC work-plan, an interactive discussion on the modelling exercise, a summary of the RFI Phase 1 findings, and an updated timeline for NERSC and RFI activities.

At the conclusion of the meeting, our goal is to have a clear set of scenarios to explore through the modelling exercise. To achieve this outcome, NERSC members will be asked to come prepared to share their thoughts on the 3-4 most relevant scenarios along with rationale for their perspectives.

Additional meeting details including date, duration, and location will be communicated shortly. The IESO looks forward to continuing to work with the NERSC to address the group's scope of work.

Thank you,
IESO Engagement
