Power. House Quarterly Report

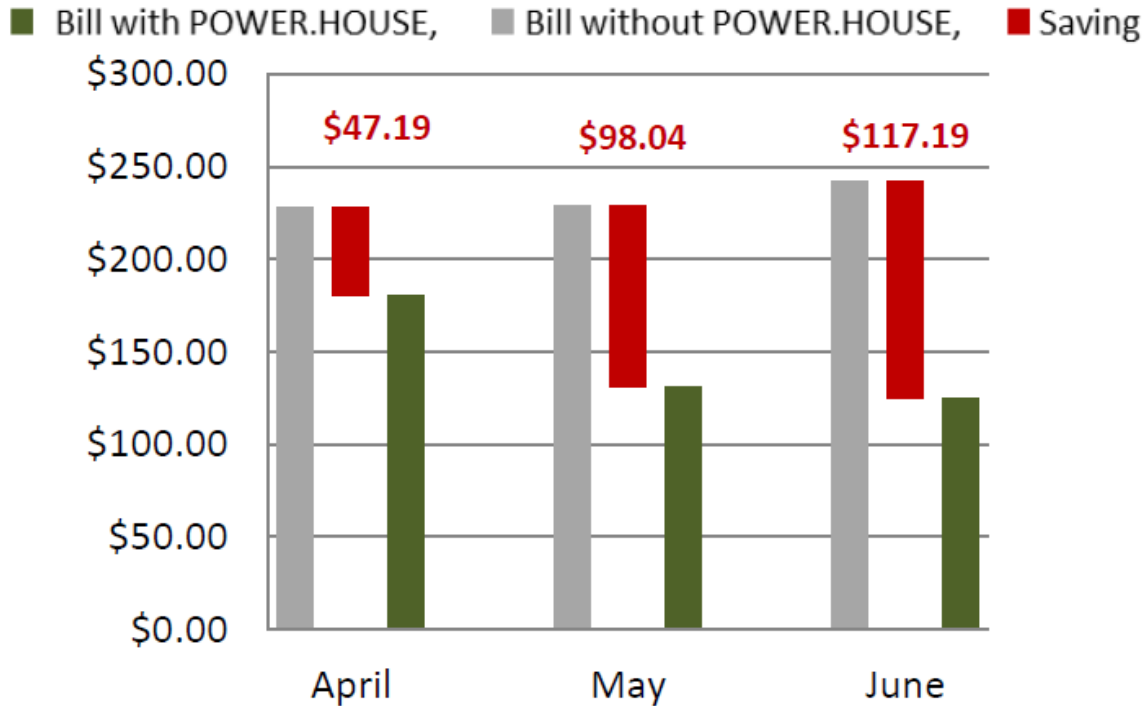

This quarterly information report, covering the period from April to June 2017, is aimed at providing you with: (1) information on your total household energy consumption and how it compares to the same period last year; (2) how much of the power generated by your POWER.HOUSE unit is consumed within the house and how much is exported to the grid; and (3) the total amount of savings you have realized over the period by having the Power.House system installed.

This graph compares your household consumption pattern for the same quarter last year (2016).

This graph breaks down your household consumption into what is imported from the utility grid vs. what was offset by your POWER.HOUSE unit.

This graph illustrates your savings. The “Bill with POWER.HOUSE” is your actual bill. The “Bill w/o POWER.HOUSE” is what you would have paid without the system based on your energy use.

Your total saving in this quarter = $262.42

This quarter, POWER.HOUSE provided your critical loads with 96 Minutes of Battery Backup.

* This outage time does not represent the typical outage duration or frequency of all TBHEDI customers.
