Subject: Webinar Rescheduled - Outage Management Process Redesign

Today's Outage Management Process Redesign webinar has been rescheduled to October 5th from 9am-11am.

As previously mentioned, this webinar will cover several themes of market participant questions that have been raised through the testing process.

Some topics that will be covered include:

- Setting up access rights and outage management related features in the Online Registration system;
- Changing outage request information in the Outage Management system;
- Recap of the final outage approval and implementation process; and
- Outage request migration to the new system.

If you're still able to participate on the new date, just reply to this email to register. The presentation has been posted to:
