Subject: Interim Process implementation complete and next steps

The Interim Outage Management Process was successfully implemented as scheduled on February 5. This marks a significant milestone in for SE-109 Outage Management Process Redesign consultation. Thank you for your contributions.

The next step in the SE-109 consultation is to complete the Final Outage Management Process redesign which includes replacing the current Online Outage Request Form and IESO software. The procurement process for the new software is underway and the IESO expects to select a vendor by April. Once a vendor is selected, SE-109 participants will be reconvened to continue work on the Final Outage Management Process redesign. This phase is expected to continue into Q2-2015.

Your continued participation will be integral to the successful completion of this initiative. Please email stakeholder.engagement@ieso.ca with any questions.
