The IESO will be holding two meetings for the DRWG in November. The first meeting on November 22 will be via webinar from 1-3pm. At this meeting the IESO will review and discuss feedback on the proposed baseline process for residential DR presented at the last meeting and communicate how residential DR with a DR capacity obligation will participate in the energy market. On November 30 from 9am-12pm in the Toronto Airport area, the IESO will be hosting its first DRWG Planning Session. During this session, the IESO hopes engage in a more open discussion with members aimed at establishing priorities and planning looking ahead to next year. Members will be expected to come prepared to discuss what priorities and future goals they would like to see the IESO and stakeholders concentrate on in 2017 and beyond. Individual working group members will have an opportunity to present their ideas and priorities to the rest of the working group and to the IESO at the meeting. Stakeholders interested in participating in one or both of these sessions can contact engagement@ieso.ca for further details and to register.
