Question	Stakeholder Response
Do you have any questions or comments related to the proposed enhancement and associated market rule changes?	Capital Power appreciates the opportunity to provide comments on the IESO's Transmission Rights Market Enhancement and Platform Refresh Project and the information provided during the November 15, 2023 engagement session. Capital Power found the session highly informative and is generally supportive of the changes to the transmission rights auction platform and the corresponding enhancements that will allow traders to submit multiple bid laminations. Capital Power understands market manuals will be finalized prior to training. Webinars, accessibility to a test environment, market trial plans and guides, and readiness checklists will be helpful in preparation for the deployment of the new platform.
