Subject: Transmission Losses Stakeholder Engagement Update

Good afternoon,

In the last written update to Transmission Losses stakeholders in January, the IESO indicated that the next steps for this engagement would be to post a draft transmission losses guideline document for stakeholder review and feedback by Q1 2021. The IESO now expects to post the draft guideline document by end of Q2 2021 and schedule an engagement webinar to review the document and stakeholder feedback received shortly after. Transmission Losses stakeholders will receive an email communication when the guideline document is posted, which will include details on how to submit feedback on the document in advance of the next engagement webinar.

Regards,

Dale Fitzgerald
