PART 3 – EXPLANATION FOR PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Provide a brief description of the following:

- The reason for the proposed amendment and the impact on the IMO-administered markets if the amendment is not made
- Alternative solutions considered
- The proposed amendment, how the amendment addresses the above reason and impact of the proposed amendment on the IMO-administered markets.

Summary

Rule amendments are proposed that allow the IMO Board to allocate excess funds in the IMO adjustment account to special projects rather than to reduce the IMO administration charge. These amendments will allow the IMO to address market issues that fall outside the scope of ongoing funding. These amendments are initiated as a result of an IMO Board decision regarding the allocation of these funds, and a concern that the current arrangements tying penalty imposition to fee reduction is inappropriate.

Background and Discussion

The current market rules (Chapter 9 section 6.18.6) require the IMO to open and maintain an “IMO adjustment account” as one of the market settlement accounts. This account is to “receive and disburse payments related to penalties, damages, fines and payment adjustments arising from resolved settlement disputes, and to reimburse the IMO for any associated costs or expenses”. The IMO is currently obligated to use any excess amounts in that account to “reduce the IMO-administration charge in the following year.”

The provision regarding the use of the excess funds could be seen as an incentive for the IMO to increase penalty revenue in order to keep the IMO-administration charge low. The existence of such an incentive, even if never acted upon, is not appropriate as it could reduce market participant confidence in IMO motives with respect to compliance activities and penalties.

At its meeting in December 2003, the IMO Board approved changing the allocation of excess funds in the IMO-adjustment account such that these excess funds would be used for special projects that would not normally be allocated IMO funding on an ongoing basis. These special projects or initiatives would include those aimed at addressing impediments to evolving and improving the market, or aimed at reducing charges to market participants. The IMO Board also approved proceeding with market rule amendments to achieve this. The proposed treatment is similar to that of the Ontario Securities Commission in respect of penalties.

Consistent with these IMO Board decisions, section 6.18.6.3 of chapter 9 is to be revised such that:

- The IMO Board would review the allocation of any excess funds in the IMO adjustment account on an annual basis. This will allow the IMO Board to allocate the funds to address issues that may arise as the market evolves and circumstances change.
- Any excess funds would be allocated by the IMO Board to projects that would normally not receive ongoing IMO funding or to special initiatives that will reduce charges to market participants. This will allow the IMO Board to allocate funds to address singular issues in the market that fall outside the scope of ongoing IMO funding e.g. customer and public education about the electricity market. This provision also removes any incentive for the IMO to increase penalty revenue in order to keep the IMO-administration charge low.

PART 4 – PROPOSED AMENDMENT

 - 6.18.6.2 any amounts paid into the IMO adjustment account by market participants shall first be applied to reimburse the IMO in respect of any costs or expenses described in section 6.18.6.1 which it has or will incur.
